"Oh, I dunno!"
Lindy's hair's all curly tangles, en' her eyes as deep en' gray,

En' she looks at me er-smilin' en' she says, "Oh I dunno!"

Now, she knows as I'm er-lovin' her fer years en' years en' years,
But she keeps me hesitat' between my doubts en' fears,
En' I'm gettin' pale en' peaked, en' et's jes' frum frettin' so
O'er Lindy with her laughin' en' er-sayin', "I dunno!"

"T'other night we cum frum meetin', en' I asks her fer a kiss,
En' I tell her she's so many thet er few she'll never miss;
En' she looks up kinder shy-like en' she whispers sorter low,
"Jim, I'd rather thet yer wouldn't, but—er—well—oh, I dunno!"

Then I see, "Now, see here, Lindy, I'm er-wantin' yer ter state
Ef yer thinks yer'll ever love me, en' if I had better wait;
Fer I'm tired uv this foolin', en' I wants to be yer beau,
En' I'd like ter hear yer sayin' a'uthin' else but—"I dunno!"

"Then I puts my arms aroun' her, en' I holds her close en' tight,
En' the stars away uv yander seems er-winkin' at the sight,
Es she murmurs sof' en' faintly, with the words er-comin' slow,
"Jim, I never loved no other!" Then I see, "Oh, I dunno!"

INJURED WITH A NEEDLE.

Piece Found in One of Neddie Conner's Legs Yesterday.

It has developed that some one injured Neddie Conner, Dr. Hord's great trotter, while on the circuit by inserting a needle in one of his legs. That was the reason for his poor showing while out on the circuit. This was only discovered a few days ago.

The Dover Public School begins its fall session next Monday.

Mrs. Roe Carr of East Second, Sixth Ward, tripped and fell at her home last Friday and broke her arm.

DIED IN CHICAGO!

Venerable Maysville Citizen Passed Peacefully Away Yesterday.

The venerable Charles Phister died yesterday morning in Chicago at the home of his only son, Mr. Walter Bell Phister, aged about 84.

The sad news came in a telegram to his brother-in-law, Major M. C. Hutchins, which merely announced his peaceful death and that the remains would leave Chicago last night for this city.

Mr. Phister was a life-long resident of Maysville and in many respects his career was remarkable.

He was the last of the few stalwart Mason county Republicans who had the temerity to vote for John C. Fremont for the Presidency in 1856; he never used tobacco or liquor in any form; never wore glasses, and to the very last was able to read the finest print without artificial aid.

For many years he was actively engaged in business, but his later life was spent in comparative rest.

Surviving are his wife, who was Miss Margaret J. Hutchins, and an only son, Mr. Walter B. Phister, a prominent business man of Chicago, and a granddaughter, Miss Eva Bruce Lowry.

He was an earnest member of the M.E. Church and probably the oldest communicant in the city.

A short time before his death—a week ago—he wrote a letter to a kinsman setting forth his desires in regard to his funeral arrangements. He made selections of the Preachers and pallbearers, as well as the hour of the funeral.

The remains will be brought here today, and the funeral will take place at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon from the Third street M. E. Church. The interment will be in Maysville Cemetery.

The Boys of This Period

Are "strenuous" little rascals. They do wear out shoe leather to "beat the band." Little girls, too, are pretty hard on footwear. It costs the average parent lots of money every year for children's shoes. Some of it may be saved by Mrs. L. V. Davis's Fall line of Millinery is now complete.

The Maysville Orchestra has been engaged to play the coming season at Washington Opera-house.

John Culp, aged 38, and Miss Rosa M. Sark, aged 15, were granted license to marry at Greenup.

The Distillers' Association of Kentucky will meet in Louisville November 10th to plan means to get Congress to reduce the whisky tax to 90 cents.

Only one death occurred during the past year in the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, that of the venerable Joseph Rand of Lexington.

Cartmell extracts teeth without pain. In Louisville last year, 1,717 new buildings were erected, at a cost of $1,918,872.

Mrs. L. V. Davis is now prepared for the fall trade with a choice line of Millinery, and confidently invites an inspection of correct styles.

Saturday's Commercial Tribune contained the "pbit" of handsome Sam McDonald in a group of Cincinnati traveling salesmen, whose day it was at the Fall Festival.

At Newport Walter Alloway, aged 14, attempted to steal a ride on a C. and O. freight. He fell beneath the wheels of a car and had one of his legs cut off between the knee and ankle.

Never compare prices without comparing quality; you will find more difference in quality than you will in price. See our monuments and markers before buying elsewhere. MURRAY & THOMAS.

D. HUNT & SON.

Yesterday morning between 2 o'clock and daylight an unknown man broke loose on East Third street, between Limestone and Plum, and woke everybody but the police. He was engaged in "singing" a mixture of ragtime and "goin' through the rye" in variations, and only stopped from exhaustion. The residents of that neighborhood are lovers of music, but they draw the line at that kind that early in the morning.

"B. L. Ryer, a well known cooper of this town, says he believes Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life last summer. Ryer, merchant, Hancock, Md. For sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

All citizens who are interested in having something doing in Maysville are invited to meet with all G. A. ### MANTELL.

The light of the afternoon sun shining on castle walls, the sea beyond, with a radiant arch of sky; a scene where is enacted one of the most fiendish crimes in the history of the French Revolution of 1793; later a barren beach with pine-clad bluffs rising abruptly from the sea and over all the silver radiance of the moon, with the tragedy of a young life swept out, and the oath of vengeance by the lonely soul left desolate to his fate,—such are the opening scenes of Robert B. Mantell's new play, "The Light of Other Days," to be presented at the Washington Opera-house tonight. Secure seats now at Ray's Drugstore.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

THE Postoffice disease appears to have extended beyond the Department at Washington.

THE Paris Gazette, a Democratic newspaper supporting the Beckham ticket and published at the county seat of the county that contributed twelve Goebelite Jurymen to try CALEB POWERS for his life, makes this frank editorial utterance concerning the members of that Jury:

"It was a Bourbon Jury that convicted POWERS at Georgetown a few days since. Each member is personally known to the Editor of The Gazette. Most of them are honorable, upright gentlemen. But few of them have capacity sufficient to detect the perjured evidence and separate it from the true."

THE worm is beginning to turn. In Chicago in an action for damages aggregating $50,000, JOHN M. STILES made an unprecedented attack on organized labor. STILES is a painting contractor. He alleges in his petition that his business has been practically ruined by the strikes instigated by the painters' pool because of his refusal to affiliate. He sues eight labor organizations and 42,000 members individually and seeks to hold the treasury of the Unions and the savings of the members liable for damages. He also asks an injunction preventing the further interference with his business. The action is based on a recent English decision that made the treasuries of Labor Unions and the individual savings of the members liable for damages sustained by the conduct of the organization or members. Naturally local labor leaders are surprised and disturbed. They declare the proceeding an attempt to crush Labor Unions and concede that a holding by the Courts in conformity with the English finding will prove a formidable blow to labor organization.

Political Pickings

THE GREAT KENTUCKY CONSPIRACY.

Louisville Evening Post.

The Democratic party in 1899 held a state convention at Music Hall, in the city of Louisville. Judge Redwine of Breathitt county presided over that convention. By disfranchising one-third of the state Judge Redwine and Mr. Goebel were able to control that convention. They nominated Mr. Goebel, and the ticket he had selected in the Goebel election law and promised the party an old-fashioned Democratic majority.

At the election though the entire machinery was in control of the Democratic organization, the vote was as follows:

For W. S. Taylor, Republican nominee.....103,714 votes
For William Goebel, Democratic nominee.....191,331 votes
For John Young Brown, Independent Democratic nominee.....12,140 votes

The Prince of Monaco, on board his yacht Princess Alice, has undertaken an expedition to ascertain the cause of the death of sardines along the Brittany coast.

DON'T WAIT.

Take Advantage of Maysville Citizen's Experience Before It's Too Late.

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic; Till serious kidney troubles develop; Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest. Profit by a Maysville citizen's experience.

Mrs. Elmer Bridges of 226 West Third street says:

"I learned of the great merit of Doan's Kidney Pills over a year ago while in Pittsburgh, Pa. The use of two boxes ended all symptoms of kidney trouble. I have told my friends of the remarkable value of this preparation and advised them to get it at J. Jas. Wood & Son's Drugstore, corner of Market and West Second streets, and give it trial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Mailed by FOSTER-MILBURN CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Fugitive Pleasure.

If you ever took De Witt's Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what a purgative pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not grip, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved. W. H. Howell of Houston, Tex., says: "No better pill can be used than Little Early Risers for constipation, sick headache, etc." Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son.

Notwithstanding this decisive defeat of the Democratic party, that party defied the people to execute their will. The Democratic caucus decided the contested election in advance. It unseated enough of the duly chosen Representatives of the people to give the Democratic caucus a majority in the Legislature. Though by the Legislature it was declared that no election had been held in Louisville, the so-called Democratic Representatives from the city of Louisville were seated in the Legislature because their votes were essential to the success of this conspiracy against the people.

These are the facts that should be carried always in mind by every lover of free institutions. The crime against civil liberty thus committed in the name of the party can never be condoned by a Democrat who loves his state or who has a pride in the history of his party.

It will not do to say that the action of the Democratic party was vindicated by the Courts; it has never been vindicated by the Courts. Not one Court, from first to last, has justified the pretended action of the Legislature. The Courts have simply declared that the Constitution of Kentucky gave to the Legislature of Kentucky exclusive jurisdiction over the contested election for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor. They have, therefore, declined to go behind legislative records.

There is only one Court that can go behind those records; that is the sovereign Court of the people. There is not anywhere any man familiar with the political history of Kentucky during 1899 and 1900 who believes that Mr. Goebel was elected Governor of this state. The ticket named by fraud at the Music Hall Convention was supported by fraud at the election, but was beaten by an uprising of the people of the state. The truth was declared by Judge Pryor and Captain Ellis. The Legislature undertook to disfranchise the city of Louisville. It boldly declared that no election had been held in the city. It usurped power not conferred by the Constitution. It set aside enough Republican counties to give Mr. Goebel the office to which the people had elected Governor Taylor. All of this was done in contempt of the law and in contempt of the people. Mr. Justice Harlan, himself a citizen of Kentucky and recognized by all men as an honored and upright Judge, dissented from the opinion rendered by the Supreme Court of the United States, to the effect that for the great wrong perpetrated against this state there was no remedy, and in his dissent declares:

"The evidence renders it clear that the declaration that Mr. Goebel had received the highest number of legal votes cast was in total disregard of the facts. The declaration is as extravagant as one adjudging that white was black and black was white, but such a declaration made by the body to which the Board of Contest reported should not surprise anyone when it is remembered that it came from those who did not have before them any of the proof taken in the case, and were willing to act without proof. Those who composed that body seem to have shut their eyes against the proof, for fear it would compel them to respect the popular will, as expressed at the polls. Indignant as naturally they were and should have been at the assassination of their leader, they proceeded in defiance of all the forms of law and in contempt of the principles upon which free government rest, to avenge that terrible crime by committing another crime, namely, the destruction by arbitrary methods of the right of the people to choose their chief magistrate. The former crime, if the offender be discovered, can be punished as directed by law. The latter should not be rewarded by a declaration of the inability of the judiciary to protect public and private rights, and thereby the rights of voters, against the willful, arbitrary action of a legislative tribunal which we must assume from the record deliberately acted upon a contested election case, involving the rights of the people and of their chosen representative in the office of Governor, without looking into the evidence upon which alone any lawful determination of the case could be made.

"The assassination of an individual demands the severest punishment which it is competent for human laws in a free land to prescribe. But the overturning of the public will, as expressed at the ballot-box, without evidence or against evidence, in order to accomplish partisan ends is a crime against free government, and deserves the execution of all lovers of liberty."

The duty of condemning such usurpation of power, such a repudiation of Democratic institutions, still rests upon the people of Kentucky. The usurpation of that power has not been justified in the use of that power. The condition of affairs in Kentucky is worse than when that conspiracy to overthrow free institutions was formed, and it will grow worse until the people make plain that they are not so indifferent to their rights as quietly to submit to so gross an outrage.

We believe that the great majority of the people of Kentucky today are longing for the restoration of the law to its old-time supremacy. They are beginning to realize how one act of lawlessness leads to another. They begin to see that the law may not be violated on election day at the election booth, and enforced elsewhere and at other times.

William Elroy Curtis, who has traveled over most of the earth, says that there are only two rivers in the world that are bordered by scenery equal to that on the Mississippi; they are the Rhine and the Hudson. We may give the Mississippi pre-eminence at once by pointing out that it has three times as much.

The coal operators are anxiously looking for a big rise in the river. An immense amount of capital is tied up in the coal already at Louisville and at Pittsburgh, and at this season of the year a ready market can be found at good prices. The Southern cities are awaiting the winter supply and a long continued stage of low water will drive the prices high even before cold weather sets in. When the rise comes it is expected that the record for big tows will be broken and the Joe B. Williams and the Finley, the two large towboats, will each take every barge that can possibly be handled.

"Having taken your wonderful 'Cascarets' for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to 'Cascarets' for their wonderful composition. The landings and harbors at Cincinnati have been cleared of the majority of the empty craft which were stored there. The Genuine vs. Counterfeits.
The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." FARMING!

Two things are necessary for real estate deals.

First, something to sell. I have that in the way of farms that will charm the eye, in fact, "things of beauty" that will prove "joys forever." The man who owns a Mason county farm "wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams," and while he dreams the crops are growing and the stock is getting fat for the market. "Every day is Sunday" with the farmer. Now, some of my friends among the farmers will want to dispute this. I will not allow myself to get into an argument about it. I GREW UP ON A FARM.

The second thing necessary is buyers. So come right along. No trouble to show you my list, and when you make your selection will drive you out to see the farm.

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for thirty years, during which time many millions of bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by J. J. Wood & Son, Druggists.
